What Is a Fake McAfee Virus Warning?

Fake McAfee virus warnings are false security alerts that mimic legitimate McAfee messages. These warnings typically try to scare users into believing their computer is infected and urge them to call a phone number or download harmful software.

Common signs of fake McAfee virus warnings include:

- Pop-ups asking you to call a number immediately (often not McAfee's official number)
 - Unsolicited emails or messages claiming your subscription expired or your device is infected
 - Red or flashing warnings demanding urgent action
 - Prompts to install unknown software or pay for unnecessary services
